Flooding at Camps in Texas

Camp America does have participants that have been affected by the flooding that occurred in Texas on July 4th.

Camp America participants that were at the camp have all been accounted for and are safe in area hotels.

Camp America emergency support arrived in Kerrville on Friday night, with further staff arriving today, meeting with our participants throughout the weekend to provide support and assistance.

The whole camping world is saddened by the tragic loss of life that has occurred, and our thoughts are with those families who have been affected.
